Cycling in Centre-du-Québec means being able to travel on nearly 40 different cycling circuits in a range of unique landscapes. Between the foothills of the Appalachians and the plains of the St. Lawrence, roads, bike paths, gravel bike and mountain bike circuits await you to test your endurance or to peacefully contemplate the horizon on gentle slopes.

Riding here means offering yourself diversity in what you can experience and see. Test it yourself to be convinced! We are waiting for you!

To discover during your journey

La Route des Navigateurs by bike, or Route Verte #3, runs along Route 132 on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River. This 60 km cycling section will make you appreciate the maritime character of this sector of Centre-du-Québec even more and will lead you to cross the Fromagerie L'Ancêtre, the Moulin Michel de Gentilly and Entre fleuve et brebis on your way. As for lodging, you will be well received at Auberge Godefroy and Motel Bécancour. Here are several stops and destinations of choice where taking a break is inviting if you choose this charming route.

THE ELECTRIC BICYCLE, CYCLING MADE ACCESSIBLE TO ALL

Proud of its already well-established reputation for sustainable development, the city of Victoriaville is also innovating in the area of electric bikes. This type of cycling is made convenient by the region's charging stations located at the tourist information office at the Vélogare du Grand Tronc and at the Réservoir Beaudet. It is also now possible to experience electric bicycles and electric scooters by renting one at the Quality Inn et Suites Victoriaville.

Their bike terminal offers hotel guests, as well as other visitors, full equipment rental to try out this fabulous sport that is gaining in popularity in Quebec!

A bike that allows everyone to ride!
